Repair-parts consignment agreement

Reference: AGR-47386
Date: October 1, 2026
Stock Owner: Linden Point Community Cooperative
Consignment Depot: Mill Quay Workshop
Agreement status: PROPOSED - NOT EXECUTED

1. Defined roles

Linden Point Community Cooperative acts as stock owner; Mill Quay Workshop acts as consignment depot. Those role labels apply throughout the arrangement; each party remains responsible for the duties stated for its role.

2. Specific terms

18 labelled bearing lines; bin-level issue log; weekly reconciliation; listed prices; return of unsold stock in identified packaging.

3. Parties, stock and accounting purpose

The Stock Owner will place a labelled stock of replacement bearings with the Consignment Depot for a three-month consignment period. The parties need a count that distinguishes sold, returned, damaged, and unaccounted parts.

The parties are the Stock Owner and the Consignment Depot. The actual terms identify 18 bearing lines, bin labels, listed prices, weekly stock count, and return packaging for unsold parts.

4. Agreement status

PROPOSED - NOT EXECUTED
Signature lines are blank; this arrangement has not been executed.

5. Issue records, reconciliation and return

The Consignment Depot will record each issue against a bin label and work order, keep unsold parts in identified bins, and send a weekly reconciliation. The Stock Owner will review disputed counts against the issue log before remittance.

The actual terms cover possession and accounting for the listed parts. They do not promise that a bearing is suitable for every repair, transfer title to unsold stock, or permit substitution of unlisted parts.

6. Milestone calendar

The timing of the repair-parts consignment affects rooms, materials and people who may not be available on short notice. A milestone calendar makes a date change visible before it becomes a missed handover.

The parties will list each milestone, responsible contact, required input and review date. A proposed date change will identify the affected milestone and the next available review point.

The current calendar will be attached to the closeout record, with missed or moved milestones explained rather than silently replaced by a later date.

7. Suspend and secure the affected work

A short pause in the repair-parts consignment can be managed if the parties identify what is held, where it is held, and what event permits a restart.

The requesting contact will identify the affected activity and reason. The contacts will record a secure holding condition, current custody, access restriction, restart question, and review date.

Work outside the recorded hold remains governed by the current terms. If no restart is agreed, the parties will prepare a closeout list rather than leave the suspension unowned.
